AMERICANS ARE NEARING BERLIN

BULLETIN
PARIS, April 14.—(INS)—Three screaming American armored columns by-passed the German "bread basket" city of Leipzig today as part of a spreading offensive which saw U. S. ninth army troops to the north close in on Berlin from points less than 40 miles away. Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's headquarters announced also that limited ground attacks were launched early in the day against the German pocket on the Gröden river, west and south of Bordeaux. PARIS, April 14.—Spearheads of the U. S. Ninth Army, holding 85 miles of the Elbe river's west bank, crossed the waterway today and sent armored units to within approximately 40 miles of Berlin.

Simultaneously racing armored columns of the U. S. Third Army drove to within 38 miles of Dresden and less than 90 miles from a junction with the Russians fighting in Silesia, threatening to cut the Reich into two great pockets.

Another American column apparently was threatening the German capital from the north of Stendal for the Berlin radio reported that U. S. armored columns had reached Wittenburg, approximately 65 miles northwest of Berlin.

Resistance In Italy Stiffens

Allied Drives In Northern Italy Slowed Down Somewhat, Rearguard Action

ROME, April 14.—(INS)—The British Eighth Army stormed into the outskirts of Imola today as stiffening German resistance slowed their advance. The latest Allied drives in Italy.

Although the Nazis put up stiff opposition, front line reports said that they were withdrawing up the Adriatic toward Ancona, important Italian town just west of Lake Comacchio.

Rearguard Action
Stubborn rearguard fighting met the advancing Eighth Army which closed in on Bastia. German forces withdrawing toward Ancona put up an especially stiff scrap at Sossello, where tanks and anti-tank guns were thrown into the battle on a larger than normal scale.

On the Fifth Army front to the west, it was revealed that the Italian Partisan brigade dedicated to Garibaldi captured Carrara from the retreating Germans before the arrival of American forces.

Weather conditions hampered Allied air activity to 1,400 sorties.

Pittsburgh Has Blackout Today

PITTSBURGH, April 14.—(INS)—Pittsburgh was "blackout" today by a thick cloud-bank.

The Duquesne Light company reported the skies were "as black as midnight," and light-meters were useless. There was no light to measure, a company spokesman said.

"I've never seen anything like it," he added.

The weather bureau stated the cloud was so big and black that sunlight was unable to penetrate. However, there was enough wind-blown to move the cloud along, and the "blackout" lasted only a short while.

President Truman Leads In Homage Paid To Roosevelt

Will Accompany Funeral Train To Hyde Park For Final Tribute Ceremonies

By ARTHUR HERMANN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, April 14.—President Harry S. Truman, humbly assuming the burdens of the White House, led the peoples of the wartime United Nations today in paying solemn homage to the late Franklin Delano Roosevelt.

The new president set aside his third and fourth days as the nation's chief executive to share in the Allied world's final tribute to America's thirty-first president. Tonight, the president will accompany the mortal remains of Mr. Roosevelt to Hyde Park. Tomorrow, he will attend the Sunday burial services at Hyde Park near the beloved Roosevelt home.

Shatters Precedent
Mr. Truman began his presidency under auspicious circumstances. In his first full day as president, he shattered all precedents by going to the Senate to lunch with his former colleagues and house leaders, there, he humbly conceded and as a result, he announced he would address a joint session of Congress Monday at 1 p. m.

In his Congressional debut as president, Mr. Truman will reassure the leaders, the armed forces and the common people of the United States.

Truman Will Not Be Present At Conference

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, April 14.—President Harry S. Truman has revealed to senate colleagues that he does not expect to attend the United Nations Conference at San Francisco but will address it by radio.

Senate friends of the new president said today he also made it plain in conferences with them that he will seek the constant advice of congressional leaders to usher in a new era of harmony.

He also revealed that he plans as president to widely delegate authority to cabinet officers and agency heads, and then hold them rigidly responsible.

This the new president, within 24 hours after taking office, indicated a sweeping change in the office of chief magistrate of the nation.

Because of his long service in the White House President Roosevelt developed the tendency to do too much detailed work himself. This, in fact, is blamed by some friends for his death.

The bombing strike at Jap-occupied China was centered on a railway terminal near Nanking and it was the first time Fifth Airforce bombers had penetrated into that territory. Results were not disclosed.

WASHINGTON, April 14.—The nation's capital bowed its head in tight-lipped grief today as it turned out the greatest assemblage in its history to pay the nation's homage, and a reverential farewell, to its great Democratic world leader.

Franklin Delano Roosevelt, his great heart stilled by death, came back to his White House home of 12 years to rest for a few hours before returning in deathless fame to his boyhood home in the Hudson high-land country.

His funeral train arrived at the Union Station in Washington at 9:48 a. m., after a 24-hour journey from Warm Springs, Ga., through an 800-mile lane of mourners.

The procession started from Union Station at 10:10 a. m. EWT, and arrived at the White House at 11:12 a. m.

He came back home to receive a demonstration of reverence and homage that perhaps has never been equaled in the nation's history.

Historic Blair House Temporary Home Of President

WASHINGTON, April 14—(INS)—The historic Blair house, 120-year-old residence where the United States houses visiting foreign dignitaries, will be the temporary home of President Truman and his family until Mrs. Roosevelt has had opportunity to move from the White House.

The Blair mansion, located just across the street from the state department and only a stone throw from the White House, will be available to the President and Mrs. Truman any time after today and they are expected to vacate immediately their modest five-room apartment.

Four Arabian princes, including the minister of foreign affairs of Saudi Arabia, who came here to sign the United Nations declaration two days ago, are now occupying the Blair house but will leave late this afternoon. The foreign minister planned to leave yesterday, but decided to remain for the late President Roosevelt's funeral.

At the same time Lieut. Gen. George S. Patton's Third Army tanks, which drove across the Mulde river toward Dresden, were only ten miles south of Leipzig, racing for the frontier of Czechoslovakia, 25 miles away.

Clear Jena

At the northern end of the push against Berlin the British Second Army seized positions 16 miles northeast of Celle and drove to within 30 miles of the lower Elbe in an advance which threatened to seal off the Nazis in Denmark and North Sea ports.

Far behind his spearheads, Patton's forces cleared the bypassed optical manufacturing center of Jena, where the Nazi garrison made a suicidal defense.

The Ninth Army, with two armored and one infantry divisions along the Elbe, were meeting stiff opposition inside Magdeburg which has not yet been completely wrested from enemy control.

Forecast Junction

The jittery Berlin radio broadcast a report presaging the coming junction of American and Russian forces, saying that the Soviet First Ukrainian army was planning an early thrust into Saxony in the direction of Gostitz and Dresden to join up with Patton's army.

The British army's crack 15th Scottish Division chased fleeing Germans for 20 miles across the desolate Luebenburg heath to within 50 miles of Hamburg and 30 miles of the Elbe.

The Canadian First Army fought to the outskirts of Zwolle where they finally closed the last escape corridor for the Nazis in western Holland.

Simultaneously the Polish First Armored Division, fighting with the Dominion forces, advanced to within 15 miles of the Nazi naval base at Emden.

To Speak to Armed Forces

On Tuesday night, Mr. Truman will speak directly to America's armed forces now engaged in battling Germans and Japs through-out the world.

In this address, the new president, a veteran of the First World War, will tell the Doughboys and sailors that he will bend every energy to support them on the battle fields and to provide jobs in their home towns when peace finally comes.

The days and events that lie immediately ahead will be particularly harrowing for the new president because of the warm affection and high regard he had for his late "Boss"—the man who chose him for the vice-presidency.

In keeping with this deep affection, the new chief executive has bent every effort to remain as unobtrusive as the stunning developments which culminate in his elevation to the presidency will permit.

He has punctiliously followed all dictates of consideration for the late President's family by staying at the White House only during the business hours of the day.

The new president, both on the night of his inauguration, and last night, returned to the modest apartment he and his family have occupied during the years that he was a senator, and during his short tenure as vice-president.

brought down off our port bow, narrowly missing a small minesweeper in its final suicidal plunge.

Made Greatest Effort

The Japs have made one of their greatest efforts with suicide planes off Okinawa, and there are countless stories regarding their attacks. Security prevents disclosure of ships and names, but the following are a few instances:

A Jap fighter-bomber bore down on one of our cargo ships, crashed into the rigging and bounced off into the water. The ship was undamaged except for the loss of a few halyard lines and the radio antenna.

One destroyer beat three death-bound Nips to the punch by shooting them out of the sky before they could dive into her.

A minesweeper shot down two and fished up the body of a pilot.

Another pilot was rescued from the sea after "ditching" rather than essaying a death dive into an aircraft carrier.

This Jap aviation equivalent of the "Banzai" charge was inaugurated in the Philippines, but undoubtedly for security reasons. Fleet Admiral Nimitz only now has permitted correspondents to refer to the "suicide attacks," the most recent of which this correspondent witnessed three days ago.

We saw a group of enemy planes swarm down on the warships off Okinawa. All but one were either shot down or plummeted into the sea. That one, however, mushroomed into a yellowish-orange explosion on the deck of a warship, what like an elephant hit by a B-B shot.

Yank artillery, planes and naval gunfire supported the ground forces and neutralized Japanese positions to such an extent that the enemy counter-thrust was carried out by only about a battalion. A much larger column of Japanese troops, marching up the middle of the island toward the American lines, was caught under heavy fire by the planes, and ship and land-based guns.

Japanese losses were heavy. Many were annihilated. The brunt of the counter-attack was shattered before it reached a position to do serious damage.

U.S. Tankmen Mop Up 1,500 Trapped Nazis

By LEE CARSON (U.S. Staff Correspondent)

WEISSENFELS, Germany, April 14—(INS)—Tank-riding U. S. First Army infantry mopped up a pocket of 1,500 Germans trapped inside Weissenfels today as armored spearheads shot beyond the town to within seven miles of Leipzig.

Combat commands by-passed the city and crossed the Saale river north and south of Weissenfels. They roared through Stasdel, 31 miles northeast of the embattled city of Weissenfels, seven miles southeast of Weissenfels.

The first major battle of the drive to Leipzig and the Elbe has turned Weissenfels into a flaming city where the Germans were caught in the lightning advance of American armor and infantry. Nazi units within the town are trying to fight their way out.

The northern half of the city was cleared during a night-long house-to-house struggle. Weissenfels has become a blazing torch as the savage fighting continues.

Japanese made their second all-out air attack against American forces.

Reports 1,277 Destroyed

Nimitz reported that the 1,277 Jap planes were destroyed by carrier planes and ships gunfire during the period from March 18 to April 12, the total however did not include several hundred additional Japanese planes in transit to Japan over the Nipponese home islands.

By lighter-armed Superfortresses and in some cases by B-29s, 90 ships of the British Pacific fleet were operating under Nimitz command.

Meanwhile machine and anti-aircraft troops of the ten army pressed the battle on Okinawa, with lines in the southern sector still stabilized at southern Japanese defense.

Nimitz reported no significant change in force in the south Pacific where 24th army planes are now smashing a Jap counter-attack on the main island of New Guinea.

British Youngsters Exchange Letters With Pupils Here

Boys And Girls In Franklin Junior High Class Write To British Young People

You have read of the blitz in England and the removal of school children from congested cities to the rural areas. But you never read of the interesting account of it as some of the British school children have written.

In the classes of James Bowman of the Benjamin Franklin junior high school are letters from British youngsters to boys and girls of Franklin, letters which have come in answer to New Castle youngsters' letters to them.

Part of Geography
Exchanging letters between New Castle boys and girls and those of other countries is a Bowman idea as a part of geography. In the past few months the British Isles have been studied and exchange letters were started. Previously letters were received from boys and girls in Australia, and so it goes depending upon the country which is being studied.

It is a part of Mr. Bowman's general plan to vitalize the study of geography. Just bounding countries, naming the rivers and industries isn't enough. After a youngster studies geography with Mr. Bowman he knows something of the country or more vivid means.

Another hobby which has developed among his youngsters is that of autograph collecting. Not autographs of movie stars or stunt folk but the autographs of important people. Amazingly enough a number of them have autographs of famous military men which have come direct from the fighting fronts. Mr. Bowman himself has a collection of about 700 autographs from famous people all over the world.

Hobbies are wit sharpeners and they are a part of Mr. Bowman's idea of education.

An indoor brass band is one who insists that any weapon be improved is perfect because the boys win in spite of it.

Here On June 14

Special evangelistic services at Savannah Methodist church will continue through the coming week. Rev. James McIntosh, of Clark Mills, is the evangelist who has been delivering the messages.

The time of the services has been changed to 8:15 each evening except Saturday.

Reminder Of Plans For V-E Day Service

Rev. Oliver W. Hurst, president of the New Castle Ministerial Association, today issued a reminder plan for V-E Day plans for a service to be held at the First Presbyterian church, following official announcement that hostilities have ceased in Europe.

If the announcement comes before 6:00 a. m., there will be a church service at 11:00 a. m., if before noon a service at 3:00 p. m., and if by 6:00 p. m., a service at 8:00 p. m.

Various religious and civic leaders will participate in the program.

The 107th convention of the Lawrence County Sabbath School Association will be held at the First Presbyterian church, New Castle, and the main speaker in addition to a number of outstanding Christian leaders and specialists will be Dr. Clarence E. Macartney, minister of the First Presbyterian church of Pittsburgh. The date is Thursday, June 14, morning, afternoon and evening sessions.

A number of invitations were received by the county association for the entertainment of the convention, and the committee gave these consideration. However, it was thought that due to gas rationing and the number who would wish to host Dr. Macartney, that a centrally located church in the area would be selected. The First Presbyterian church has ample facilities for entertaining this gathering from all over Lawrence county and its 426 Sunday school and both noon and evening meals will be served to these visiting delegates.

Speculation On Final Act In Hitler Drama

By CAPTAIN JOHN H. CRAIG

(Written Especially for N. S.)

With the doom of the Nazi Reich approaching like fate in a Greek drama, a wave of speculation is sweeping over military circles throughout the world as to the final act in the drama of Adolf Hitler and his fellow leaders in the Nazi party.

Hitler himself has compared his present position with the Götterdämmerung, the twilight of the ancient Teutonic gods of Germany's Niebelungenlied. Like the Gods of Valhalla, Hitler and his Nazis know they are on the way out. Their passing may be a drama, or it may be a comedy. Whatever it turns out to be, it may influence history.

Named As War Criminals

Members of Hitler's immediate inner circle are Heinrich Himmler, head of the Gestapo, Hermann Goering, builder of the Luftwaffe, and swarthy Dr. Joseph Goebbels, voluble chief of propaganda. Below them are something more than 100 top-ranking Nazi executives and below these, in turn, thousands of group leaders, workers, practically all of them have been named as war criminals and know they will receive short shrift should they fall into United Nations hands. They had their day of glory. Now the sun is set and the gloom of twilight deepens. How will they face their end?

Already, considerable discussion has taken place inside Germany concerning the proper way for Nazi party officials to pass from the scene. There has been a wave of suicide, especially among Nazi officials of the districts occupied by United Nations armies.

Center of speculative interest is

Adolf Hitler himself. Hitler has stated on a number of occasions that he does not intend to survive defeat, and that when the destruction of the Reich seems inevitable, he will place himself at the head of his personal bodyguards and die fighting.

On a number of occasions he has scornfully commented on Kaiser Wilhelm's failure to die a hero's death in 1918 and has stated most emphatically that in his own case things will be different. But Hitler is an extremely nervous, unpredictable individual and what he says may be far from what he will do.

Consensus of opinion, however, is that no matter what Hitler may decide when the fateful moment arrives, his death will be recorded officially by the Nazis as a hero's passing in action. What the Nazi party officials fear most is that nerves may get the better of their fuhrer, and that he may make himself as ridiculous as did his former Axis partner, Benito Mussolini. This would end all chance of a comeback for Nazism in their opinion, probably, for German nationalism as well.

So there appears little doubt, that should Hitler's nerves fail him at the last, the fanatical members of his personal bodyguard of Gestapo troopers will arrange a proper exit for him from his life. Probably a similar end will be arranged for Goering, who is reported as being in disgrace and a prisoner at the present.

Strong man of the Nazi party as it approaches its end, according to reports, is Heinrich Himmler, chief of the Gestapo. In all probability, he will be the last of the original Nazis to survive.

Statements and opinions herein are private to the writer and are not to be construed as reflecting the views of the Navy department.

In classic myth, Hades is the god of the underworld, and also the underworld itself. The ancients dreaded to mention his real name they usually called him Pluto.

Workman Fatally Burned, Another In Critical Shape

Find Jap Order For Torture In Killing Yanks

MANILA, April 14.—(INS)—A battle order instructing Japanese to kill Americans cruelly and "not with one stroke" was captured on Luzon recently, Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced today.

The captured document consists of battle instructions from a Japanese ground commander and was dated March 8. It was taken in Batangas province, south of Manila, on March 27.

The order read in part: "Kill Americans cruelly. Do not kill them with one stroke. Shoot at their heads. All who oppose the emperor, even women and children, will be killed."

SELECTIVE SERVICE OFFICES ARE CLOSED

All four Selective Service boards in the county received orders this morning from State Director Richard K. Mellon, under orders of General Hershey, national director of Selective Service, to close their offices today from 1 to 5 p. m.

Paris Radio Says Yanks Are Only 19 Miles From Berlin

Urge Caution In Burning Brush

HARRISBURG, April 14.—(INS)—State Game Commission officials today urged Pennsylvanians to exercise the "utmost caution" while burning brush.

"Spring housecleaning of fields and fence rows can result in untold damage to wildlife and sometimes tragedy to human life," the commission stated.

"Uncontrolled brush fires or grass fires often assume high conflagrations because of improper control, and sometimes spread to farm buildings or forest areas," it was added.

HERE ARE
27,000,000 GOOD EXAMPLES
FOR US TO FOLLOW!

This month, the millions of men and women participating in the Payroll Savings Plan are being extra smart.

Here's how, and why:

In the first place, this war isn't getting any cheaper. It's going to cost us just about as much in 1945, as it did in 1944.

No matter what happens to Germany, or when, there'll be no easing up! The quickest way to end the whole nasty business is to keep going full steam ahead.

But this year, there will be only TWO War Loans—instead of three, as there were in 1944.

That means we've got to lend, in 2 chunks, as much as we lent last year in 3! It means that, in the 7th War Loan, which starts next month, each of us will have to buy a BIGGER share of extra War Bonds!

And right there is where the men and women on the Payroll Plan are being extra smart.

Right now—they're boosting their allotments for April, May, and June. Saving extra money so that they can buy more extra Bonds, and spread their buying over more pay checks.

When the big 7th War Loan starts, these people won't have to scrape so hard for extra cash. A good share of their extra Bonds will be already paid for—because they're putting part of the extra money for those extra Bonds aside right now!

That's a swell idea for all of us. It's better for us—better for Uncle Sam. It's the easiest way for us to fulfill our obligation to the men who are fighting. Let's all start saving now for the mighty 7th War Loan!

Give Testimony In Hearing Of Bus Company

PITTSBURGH, April 14.—(INS)—M. H. Claster, public utility commission examiner, today held testimony of witnesses that the buses of Beaver Suburban Motor Coach Inc., had leaking roofs and floors, doors that wouldn't shut and heaters that wouldn't heat.

At a hearing in Pittsburgh Jean Welsh, 16, New Galilee, one of 27 school children who ride the company's buses to Beaver Falls High school, said rain came through the roof, slush splashed through the floor, the heater was cold, and the door stood open on buses, she and her companions rode last winter.

"When we got to school we'd be pretty cold," she added.

Other patrons corroborated her testimony.

Meanwhile, A. J. Hutton, vice president in charge of operations, defended the company's safety record, saying the line had had no personal injuries in two years. Joseph Speice, manager, said the equipment was "adequate and safe," and maintained that buses were damaged by pranksters. Both claimed the buses were inspected regularly.

Pfc. Howard Garrett Is Listed As Killed

Pulaski District Soldier, Reported Missing At Anzio Over Year Ago, Reported Dead

Mr. and Mrs. Jay Garrett of R. D. 2, Pulaski, have been informed by the war department that their son, Pfc. G. Howard Garrett, who had previously been reported as missing in action in the Anzio district, Italy, February 23, 1944, has now been listed as killed in action on that date.

Pfc. Garrett was born in Sharon November 22, 1922. He was employed at the Sharon Steel Hoop plant when he entered service on February 5, 1943. He received his training at Camp Croft, S. C., and went overseas in June, 1943.

Pfc. G. Howard Garrett was one of four sons of Mr. and Mrs. Garrett to enter the service. Pfc. Dalmier Garrett was taken prisoner by the Germans on January 30, 1944, when the Ranger battalion, with which he was serving, was surrounded at Cisterno. His parents hope that he may have been one of the prisoners recently liberated in northeastern Germany by the Russians. He was last reported at Stalag 2B and the last letter they had received from him was written January 8.

Sgt. Maurice Garrett is stationed at an ordnance base in England, and with several buddies, spend their spare time entertaining the wounded men in English hospitals with their hill billy show.

Gerald Garrett, S. 1-c, is at a Pacific base with the Seabees. His wife and three children reside in Pulaski.

A son-in-law of the Garretts, James Holsapfel, M. M. 1-c, has been assigned to the new aircraft carrier recently commissioned. He previously had spent 22 months at a P. T. base in the New Hebrides. His wife, Mrs. Yvonne G. Holsapfel, resides on Scheuley avenue, East New Castle.

Mrs. L. E. Twentier, of Portersville, has been informed that her husband, T-3 Lawrence E. Twentier, has arrived somewhere in France. He is attached to an Engineer Construction Battalion and received his basic training at Fort Belvoir, Va.
